TDT ASSOCIATE QUALIFICATION IN CPD LEADERSHIP

Next course starts
November
2021

The Associate Qualification in CPD Leadership is a 10-month intensive blended course designed to nurture future school and national champions of professional development.

Participants will critically engage with leading research and experience best practice first-hand, creating a robust CPD plan for 2022/23 informed by their organisational needs.

Take the qualification to:

- | Cultivate confident and transformative CPD leadership in your school using a plan based on leading research, the DfE CPD Standards and best international practice around CPD
- | Identify and successfully embed carefully-designed changes, powered by the growth of your people, that make your existing improvement plans work more effectively
- | Raise teacher morale and staff retention through prioritising workforce development to become an employer of choice
- | Become a local and national Champion of professional development.

What the programme covers

- | Timing and structure of CPD.
- | Commissioning and engaging with expertise.
- | Creating a framework for evaluation to measure the impact of CPD.
- | Design CPD with impact.
- | Fostering an effective culture for teacher learning.
- | Developing your senior and middle leadership teams.
- | Creating route maps for career development.
- | Lead effective change.

Who is it for?

The qualification is aimed at existing and aspiring CPD leaders in schools, Trusts or Teaching Alliances Our previous successful associates include:

Assistant Headteachers, Headteachers, Vice Principals, Heads of Teaching and Learning, CPD Leads, Deputy Headteachers, Teaching School Directors, Directors of Learning, Subject Heads.

Who are the course leaders?

The course is co-led by our Chief Executive, David Weston and Training Programme Lead, Bethan Hindley.

David Weston is the founder and Chief Executive of the Teacher Development Trust, and the Chair of the Department for Education's Teacher Development Expert Group. He is an author and former secondary maths and physics teacher. David is a Founding Fellow of the Chartered College of Teaching and sits on the College's Council.

Bethan Hindley is Training Programme Lead for the Teacher Development Trust, the national charity for effective CPD in schools and colleges. A former maths and economics teacher, she now leads on the Trust's courses and works with head teachers and leaders across the UK to improve the quality of their processes for staff professional learning.

What is involved?

Training for the associate qualification includes:

- ◆ Flexible asynchronous learning
- ◆ 3 live webinars with networking opportunities
- ◆ Individual coaching support
- ◆ Around 50 hours of study
- ◆ A half-day visit to another school, which participants arrange themselves
- ◆ An in-school project to evaluate and refine the leadership, culture and process of CPD within your school
- ◆ Production of a 7000-word portfolio
- ◆ Ongoing online supervision support

Participants will be supported to create a CPD plan for 2022/23 aligned with leading research, the DfE CPD standards and best international practice around CPD.

"The course has been really helpful for us as colleagues. As Headteacher it has allowed me to improve my understanding of what is required of an effective CPD curriculum for staff in our Academy. Having the SLT lead for CPD alongside me has been really powerful. It allowed us time to reflect together, away from the business of the school day, on a crucial part of our leadership work. It also allowed us to formulate a vision for the future together, which Elizabeth can now take forwards into the new academic year and grow and develop."

Simon Eccles, Headteacher and Elizabeth Horne, St Mary's Catholic Academy

"I've been on quite a personal journey with this course and it's certainly built my own confidence and resilience in enacting change. As I start working more across our trust I continue to draw on materials from the course"

Beth Greville-Giddings, L&D Lead, Raleigh Learning Trust

"I'm really enjoying the course! It's so well-designed and I like the way it utilises blended learning and gets us to read and reflect so much before the first session."
